All associated fees, certificates of liability insurance, and endorsed license or special use permit documents must be submitted prior to the beginning of operations. Commercial business groups are distinguished from non-profit by the qualification of non-profit groups to possess a 501 C-3 IRS tax exemption.

3. Definitions:

A license is a formal written authorization for certain longer-term activities that may allow the user some interest in the land but does not transfer contractual, vested or property rights.

A special use permit is a formal written authorization for short-term, low-impact use by individuals and groups, requiring no or only minimal development and no permanent structures.

- a. A special use permit or license is required for any activity proposed by a commercial or non-profit entity using Department lands that does not have a lease or license for agriculture, maple sugar or utility right of way as described below and the activity meets at least one of the following criteria:
  - 1) is organized or publicized, or
  - 2) involves a fee (charged to participants), or
  - 3) alters a site or alters/removes natural resources, or
  - 4) may conflict with other established, traditional uses.
- b. There is a fee per area charge.
- c. The terms are usually for one year or season for licenses and less than one year for special use permits.

4. Agricultural

- a. A license issued for the purpose of expanding an agricultural business onto Department land to implement goals of long range management plan for the property to satisfy a deed requirement.
- b. Fees charged will vary according to the major benefit accrued to one of the parties, i.e., the maximum fee if the major benefit accrues to the farmer; the least or no fee if the major benefit accrues to the Department.
- c. The terms are usually in five-year increments.

5. Maple Sugar Operation

- a. A license issued for the purpose of allowing the tapping of maple trees on Department lands for private/commercial uses.
  - b. There will be a limit on the number of taps per tree.
  - c. The terms are for a single season.

- a. A license to a utility to provide a legal right of way across Department land to provide service to a Department facility.
  - b. The terms are usually in ten-year increments.
7. Special Use Permits
- a. Granting of a special use permit will be considered after it has been determined that a proposed use of public land meets the following conditions:
    - It will not dominate or preclude all other public uses of the land for periods of more than one week.
    - It is short-term (one year or less).
    - It does not in any way, due to the type, scale, or nature of associated development, presume annual renewals. The proposed activity must be feasible without the necessity of repeated annual renewal. If it is not legitimately possible without the guarantee of annual renewal, a special use permit is inappropriate.
    - It will not involve a permanent structure or any permanent significant change to the land. Minimal timber cutting, skidding, landing, and hauling especially for temporary rights-of-way may be exempted from this constraint. Any permitted timber removal will be undertaken according to a cutting plan and stumpage payment approved by the Department.

Consideration shall be given to commitment of necessary human and natural resources, displacement of other uses, clean up costs. etc.
