

DAR State Park

Addison, Vermont

LEGEND

- Park office
- Campsite
- Lean-to
- Restrooms
- Showers ($)
- Drinking water
- Trash/Recycling center
- Volunteer Site
- RV Sanitary Station
- Traffic direction
- Steep bank
- Parking
- Picnic shelter
- Picnic area
- Playground
- Swings
- Horseshoe pit
- Volleyball
- Wheelchair accessible facility
- Foot Trail

to: Chimney Pt. Bridge, NY 903 & VERMONT 125

1 mi.

DAR-
John Strong
Mansion Museum

to Addison & VERMONT 22A
8 mi.

this map is intended for informational purposes only

D.A.R. State Park

Welcome to D.A.R. State Park. With its picturesque setting on the shores of Lake Champlain, the park provides an ideal setting for anyone seeking a relaxing day visit or an overnight respite. This quiet park is popular for its open campground, grassy picnic areas and stone pavilion. It is a favorite spot for birdwatchers and provides shore access to Lake Champlain.

Located in the contemporary rural agricultural community of Addison, the area is one of the earliest and most intensely settled parts of Vermont, with evidence of human habitation dating back over 7,500 years. Native Americans regularly used the greater Chimney Point area for camping, hunting and fishing (and later, village settlements) for as long as 7,000 years until Euro-american settlers arrived.

This area is thought to be the site of the first permanent Euro-american agricultural settlements in Vermont. In 1731, The French constructed a fort at Chimney Point to prevent the British advance up the Champlain Valley. Sieur Gilles Hocquart, Intendant of New France, was granted a large seigneurie by the King of France in 1743. Seigneuries, or land grants, were issued to encourage settlement and cultivation and to maintain a strong presence against British encroachment. The Hocquart Seigneurie included Ft. St. Frédéric, built in 1734, (now called Crown Point) on the western shore of Lake Champlain and land along the eastern shore, including what is now Chimney Point and the park. In 1759, the French evacuated Hocquart Seigneurie, including Ft. St. Frédéric, and fled to Canada in response to pressure from the British. Historic accounts say the British blew up Fort St. Frédéric and burned the French dwellings, leaving nothing but chimneys standing, giving Chimney Point its name.

After the English won control of the area in 1760, English settlers began to arrive and build homesteads. John Strong is believed to have built a cabin on top of a former French home site. The foundation is visible just north of the park picnic pavilion. The Strong's cabin was burned in 1790 by loyalist British forces; at that time they decided to build the imposing brick mansion near the park entrance. The Daughters of the American Revolution purchased the property in 1934 and turned it into a museum depicting early colonial life. In 1955, they donated 95 acres to the State for creation of the park.

D.A.R. State Park amenities:

- 70 tent/trailer sites
- 24 lean-to shelters
- Lake Champlain shore access
- Picnicking and group events
- Firewood for sale

Recreating and sightseeing in the area:

Addison

- John Strong Mansion Museum
- Chimney Point Historic Site
- Dead Creek Wildlife Management Area
- Snake Mountain Wildlife Management Area

Middlebury

- Henry Sheldon Museum of Vermont History
- Downtown Marbleworks District
- Middlebury College
- University of Vermont Morgan Horse Farm

Vergennes

- Button Bay State Park
- Lake Champlain Maritime Museum

New York State

- Crown Point State Historic Site
- Fort Ticonderoga National Historic Landmark

Ferrisburgh

- Kingsland Bay State Park
- Rokeby Museum

History information used with permission from Vermont Division for Historic Preservation & University of Maine Farmington Archaeology Program.

For more information, contact:

D.A.R. State Park
6750 VT Route 17W
Addison, VT 05491

(802) 759-2354 (operating season)

OR

VT State Parks Reservation Center

(888) 409-7579 M- F 9 am-4 pm

AGENCY OF NATURAL RESOURCES
Department of Forests, Parks and Recreation

This document is available upon request in large print, Braille and audiocassette.

VT TDD Relay 1-800-253-0191

Printed on recycled paper 01/08 RRA

---

---

D.A.R. State Park Map & Guide

Memorial Day Weekend- Labor Day

Camping
Picnicking
Group Events
Fishing

www.vtstateparks.com

---

---